Baird and Reynolds the latter has now changed his mind and thinks there should be a Regulation on the general responsibilities of the Assistant Director for Personnel which makes him responsible for all action that impinges upon personnel. 3. Dr. Tietjen was over to discuss the case of Dr. [REDACTED] again. He said that the Army thought it might be illegal if we let Dr. [REDACTED] go to school in Pennsylvania for thirty days while he was detailed to CIA from the military. I told Dr. Tietjen I questioned this but that in any case the first thing to do was to request Dr. [REDACTED] to indicate what he would prefer and then do our best to work it out.
